“Gerard Baumbach has been fighting the good fight of authentic catechetical renewal for decades. What a blessing to have his perspective on our disciple-making ministry!”

Ken Ogorek
Director of Catechesis
Archdiocese of Indianapolis

Gerard Baumbach is professor emeritus in the McGrath Institute of Church Life at the University of Notre Dame and director emeritus of the Institute’s Echo Program. He joined the faculty in 2003 after a distinguished career in publishing, writing, and parish catechetical leadership. He was the founding director of Echo. He and his wife, Elaine, have three married sons and six grandchildren. They live in Granger, Indiana.
